Last night, I was so tired because my school team practiced basketball for three hours. I almost couldn't move my arms and legs, so I went to bed right after I got home.

I was in a sound sleep for a few hours. But then, something happened. I felt something touch my hair and heard a sound from the window. I opened my eyes. The window was open. That was strange because I remembered closing the window before going to bed. "Maybe the wind just pushed it open," I thought. "Then it blew my hair." I tried to get back to sleep again, but I felt so cold. I had no choice but to get up and close the window.

Then I heard another sound. It was right at my back! I turned and saw a hand stretching out from my bed! That hand just touched my hair! It was not the wind at all. I was terrified.

I wanted to cry out for help, but I couldn't make a sound. The hand suddenly "flew" to my neck! I couldn't breathe... "Wake up!" cried my mom. "Time for school!" I felt so happy. I was OK and nothing was real last night. I jumped off the bed and turned back. Guess what I saw? A stretching hand right in my bed...
