Tim : Linda, do you know what this Chinese sentence means?
 Linda : It means that practice makes perfect.
 Tim : Oh, I see. By the way, your Chinese is good. How do you learn Chinese?
 Linda : My mother teaches me Chinese. She's from Taiwan. And she was a Chinese teacher in a junior high school before.
 Tim : That's nice. How often does she teach you?
 Linda : She teaches me on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays.
 Tim : What about on Mondays and Wednesdays?
 Linda : I always exercise. I usually play tennis with my sister. Sometimes I go biking. If it rains, I will go swimming. On weekends, my family and I go hiking. We love outdoor activities.
 Tim : Wow! You live a healthy life.
 Linda : Yes. My parents care about our health. They want us to be healthy so that we can enjoy our lives. What about you, Tim? Do you often exercise?
 Tim : No, I don't. I only go jogging once a week.
 Linda : That is not enough! Maybe you should play tennis with my sister and me.
 Tim : But I'm not good at playing it.
 Linda : Don't worry. I can teach you. Don't forget the sentence you asked. Practice makes perfect!
 Tim : All right. So let's meet at the gym this Wednesday?
 Linda : Sure. See you then.
