Thanksgiving Day(感恩節) in the United States and Canada

Thanksgiving Day is celebrated in the United States on the fourth Thursday of November, which this year falls on November 28. It is a day when people give thanks for the blessings of the harvest. Every year, the president will pardon a lucky turkey as part of a presidential tradition. The lucky turkey can live out its life free on a farm.

Thanksgiving is also celebrated in Canada on the second Monday of October. It is not a public holiday in every province. It is not all about turkey, either. Canadians have Jiggs' dinners, a boiled meat dish with split-pea pudding. Also, Canadians enjoy the day by hiking and taking long strolls in the countryside.
