I.

A taxi driver stopped his car on the street side to take a rest. When he lay down in the seat and closed his eyes, a man came up and knocked at his windows to ask the time. The driver opened his eyes and looked at his watch. "It's 2 p.m." he said. Then he went to sleep again. But soon he woke up because another man was knocking at the windows. "Sir, do you have the time?" he asked. The driver looked at his watch again, and told the man it was 2:30.

The driver was really bored. If it went on, he couldn't have a good rest, so he wrote a short note, and put it on the window for all to see. It said, "I don't have the time." Again the driver lay down in the seat for his sleep. A few minutes later, a third man came along and began knocking at the window. "Hey, sir," he said. "It's a quarter to three."

31. Why did the driver stop his car on the street side?
(A) To fix his windows. (B) To have a rest. (C) To tell somebody what time it is.
(D) To wait for somebody to take his car
32. How many times was the driver asked to tell the men what time it was?
