Ted Willis is a famous worker for TBC News. His job is to go to foreign countries to report important news from there. Ted learn fast and spends most of his time on his job. His hard work has won him many big prizes so far. Millions of people in his country enjoy watching him report on TV.

Ted's road to success was full of obstacles. His parents separated when he was seven. From then on, his mother worked two jobs to bring up her four children. She had little time for them, so Ted did poorly at school. Besides that, because Ted had a stutter, he was afraid of talking to others. When Ted was a teenager, his stutter improved. He was more confident in himself then. He made more friends and got better at school work. One day, he saw Mark Collins, a famous reporter, reporting the news on TV. A dream began to form in his mind.

He wanted to be an excellent reporter just like Mark Collins.

Ted's mother believed him. She knew his youngest son would get what he wanted. Ted did not let her down. He became a good reporter at the age of 28.

Ted is really a good example for people. His story tells us if we keep working hard, our dreams can come true one day.
